Bob Taylor's Effort to Escape to the West-Con fronted by Sheriff Goodall, and Shot Dead-The Other Brother Surrounded in Rook-wood, Tennessee-Other Crimes.

Sr. Louis, October 15 .- A special from Marshfield, Mo., says: R. P. Goodall, sheriff of Laclede county, killed Bob Taylor this morning while attempting to arrest him on board a passenger train a few miles from Le banon. Taylor is one of the three brothers who murdered the sheriff and his deputy of Hamilton county, Tennessee, on September 14 last. He had been hiding in the vicinity of Lebanon for sometime past, and Sheriff Goodall had been after him for two weeks. This morning the sheriff encountered Taylor on the train between Marshfield and Lebanon and stepping up to him, presented his revolwer and demanded his surrender. Taylor instantly drew his pistol, but the sheriff was too quick for him and fired, killing him instantly. The body was taken to Lebanon, and the sheriff has telegraphed to the authorities in Tennes see. It is thought that another of the Taylor brothers was on the train, as the pistol that fell from the dead man's hands was picked up during the excitement by a man who pussed into another car, and was seen no more. It is said that $16,000 reward has been offered for the arrest of the three Taylors. Since the above was received, a special has been received from Chattanooga, Tenn., say-ing that a noted desperado, mamed Taylor, is surrounded, near Rockwood, and that a posse has gone out to assist in his capture. This is probably a brother of the man that was killed by Sheriff Goodall this morning.

The son was put to work in the mines and the elder daughter left at home to take care of her parents. Two take care of her parents. Two months had hardly passed when both the son and daughter were also stricken down with a fatal disease, and thus the entire means of support of the family were taken away. Their condition was no made public till Friday last, when the elder daughter died of starvation. The chief of police was then informed, but the sfory of the poor family's application was heard so late as to render assistance of little benefit, for on Sunday morning the son followed his elder sister into eternity and this morning the younger daughter and only remaining child died. When visi.ed by the police the family was found to be in the most destitute condition, without even a crust of bread in the house, and it is said that the children's lives might have been say been saved had they been given

THE MORNING COMET.

SPECULATIONS OF THE MATUTI-NAL OBSERVERS.

ten Pieces Again Attaching Themselves Main Body-Peculiar Features about th Wanderers-The Tail Considered-The Composition of the Head, Etc.

Washington, October 13 .- Observations of the comet were made at the naval observatory this morning by Professor Eastman, Con mander Sampson and Mr. Winlock. Profes or Eastman made a very careful observation with the small equatorial, but failed to disover any evidence of the splitting or separanon of the nucleus so persistently reported by other observers. There were in the nucle us a number of points of condensation, but th ight between them was continuous. The number of these points visible at one time seems to vary from two or three to five, and Professor Eastman thinks they have been mistaken by other astronomers for the fragments of a disin-tegrated nucleus. They are, however, nothing more than points of condensation. The length of the nucleus which extends in the direction of the tail is now 31.2 seconds of arc and its width four seconds. The outer envelope is becoming a more noticeable fea-ture of the comet, and is well defined. The observations for position which are being constantly made confirm the elements and ephemeris computed by Professor Frisby Good observations of the comet obtained at Cambridge this morning gave proof that no permanent change has taken place in the appearance of the nucleus. If any fracture or separation of the nucleus did occur the fluid or semi-fluid material of which the nucleus consists has become fused and again blended. Similar phenomena have been noticed in the cases of other comets. This, being the third cases of other comets. This, being the third accurate position obtained at Harvard, will permit of the determination of a better orbit than has yet been produced.

THE TAIL DISCUSSED.

Mr. William T. Williams, of Savannah, writing to the New York Herald on the comet, says the fall the numerous and varied theories accerto advanced concerning the origin and nature of the comet's tail none seem free from probably fatal objection. It is incredible—nay, almost inconceivable—that an apole-nay, almost inconceivable-that an apbendage so vast as the tail of the comet now exciting universal attention consists of nebu-ous matter extending millions upon millions of miles from the nucleus into space. Not to speak of the difficulty of accounting for the tail substance being so enormously extended how does it manage to "wheel around" so rapidly as the comet passes around the sur and still remain so regular? What causes the dark cone in the center near the nucleus dark cone in the center near the nucleus and sometimes stretching out to a great length? Allow me to suggest another view of the subject, which may, and I think will be found to satisfy the requirements of the problem. I will be as brief as possible. At a lofty elevation a thin, vaporous cloud appears quite dense; viewed nearer it seems to become thinner and thinearer it seems to become thinner and thin nearer it seems to become thinner and thin-ner, until, when we approach very near, it becomes invisible. Hence an object or phe-nomenon may be invisible if quite near the beholder and become plainly visible at a great distance, when made up or caused by numerous minute particles or effects in their general ensemble. I think the tail of a comet is of this nature, and the view I wish to ad-vance is that the tail is merely an ontical is of this nature, and the view I wish to advance is that the tail is merely an optical phenomenon and does not consist of any material substance whatever. My theory supposes the nucleus either to be entirely translucent or to consist of an opaque center with a translucent envelope. There are probably comets of both kinds. Now, it can hardly be doubted that the sun rays would be modified by passing through the translucent mass of a comet or through its translucent envelope. How the rays would be affected would of course depend on the consitiution of the comet, differing doubtless in different cases, according as the substance of the comet was more or less dense, according the comet was more or less dense, according to the size and shape of the comet, and yet again with reference to the internal motion going on in the nebulous masses of the comet. All these circumstances, I repeat, must have some effect upon the transmitted light; the effect most likely would be akin to what we know as polarization. In any event the light emerging from the comet would be necessarily modified—would be different from the surrounding sea of calm, uniform, un-changing waves. There would be a decided disturbance of the regular ethereal pulsations in the region opposite the comet from the teal waves became perceptible to us at all tonly become perceptible as a luminous cloud against, the black background of the sky representing the unaffected great ma waves. That such a disturbance as an inlike these of the surrounding space, should become perceptible to us as a luminous clouds not difficult to believe. The analogy of the distant cloud shows us the result of great distance upon an aggregation of separately in risible particles; increase this distention times or more, and increase this distance ten million times or more, and per haps, even ethereal irregularitie may condense into a self visible ap pearance. It would require too much spac pearance. It would require too much space to enlarge upon this idea at present, and our only desire is to point out that it would ap-pear to express many things which otherwise were inexplicable. Surposing the theory here advanced to be true, it will be easy to see that the oldinrry shape of the comet's tail would be that of an inverted cone, shaded off into space—a cone, the angle of which would gradually narrow as the comet receded fur ther. If the comet possessed an opaque nu-cleus center, a cone of darkness, inverted as to the cone of the tail, would be projected nto the luminous belt. Some light would be reflected from both first and second surface of contact, and the effect would be somewhat similar to that of the transmitted light. The particular shape of the tail would de pend upon the constitution and internal con-dition of the comet, as these circumstances would regulate the quality and quantity of the changes wrought upon the original light waves. The most difficult point to explain is perhaps the fact that comets have occasionally curved tails. But it is conceivable that the waves may be slightly twisted and deflected by the influence of the rare substance of the comet, and by such waves communi-cating like impulses, and so on from one to arother. At any rate I know of no theory which can account for the curved tails in a me e satisfactory manner, for, certainly whatever impulse or law would cause a ma terial tail to assume such shapes would equally account for ethereal light waves assuming such directions.

ALL TOGETHER AGAIN.

From the Philadelphia Times. The comet, after remaining fractured for everal days, has come to terms and joined ogether. hours. From his observatory in Haverford college grounds, Professor Sharpless notes its progress every morning, and with a series of telescopes of most wonderful construction brings the celestial wanderer near enough to dissect and catalogue it. So far he has found its doings very interesting, more so probably than those of any comet which has come within hailing distance for some time. Its freaks, however, have not been startling enough to attract an abnormal amount of popular attention; the mere fact of its presence, the knowledge of its distance and the speed in which it is going being enough to satisfy the public mind. The points have been published from time to time, but in a somewhat technical fashion, and have not been much discussed in unscientific circles. Professor Sharpless, however, describes the comet in an interesting mannar describes the comet in an interesting manual describes the comet in an interesting manual to the visitor to his observatory, and trances him with a list of its wonders.

COMPOSITION OF THE COMET.

"The nucleus or head," continued the astronomer, "which, by the by, is only ten thousand miles long, was, when first observed, almost round. Gradually it has changed till now it is drawn out into an oblong band. The comet is nearer to the sun than anything else. It is possible to photograph it, as was done to the comet of 1881, but I have not heard of this being attempted. Its temperature is not the comet of 1881, but I have not heard of this being attempted. Its temperature is not known precisely, but the space through which it passes is cold. The nucleus is made of solid matter, but the composition of the whole comet is more gaseous than that of the sun. The gases consist largely of carbon, hydrogen and sodium. It is much better seen just now when the moon is not very bright than it was previously. The best time to see it is about when the moon is not very bright than it was previously. The best time to see it is about half-past four in the morning. After that time the sun rises and blots it out." The concluding words were among the most important that Professor Sharpless uttered.

For weeks deluded citizens have been stargazing from midnight to early morning, and got tired before the comet really rose. Others have looked and finally fixed on an unusually bright star as the goal of their ambition. More have decided not to look at all, under the impression that the comet had departed. One or two have proved that while the comet may not materially affect the vintage, the vintage may improve the comet both in number and size, and as many as six have been look, as is instanced by the case of a man who was found early yesterday morning with his head in a Chestnut street gutter. He told a policeman that he was "lookin' for the

There were many distinguished democrats in the city to-day. Among them were Hon. Samuel J. Randall and J. Simpson Africa, the candidate on the democratic ticket for secretary of internal affairs. In an interview on the Ohio cyclone, ex-Speaker Randall said:
"I think the result in Ohio will have a very great effect upon the issue in this state."

In response to a question of the reporter he aid: "I think it will have the effect of bringing out the reserve force of the democracy— the element that is inclined to stay at home and not vote on ordinary occasions." "Will the gain in congressmen in Ohio but refused to give any estimate on the prob-able majority in the state. Chris Magee, Cameron's western manager, and the leader of the stelwarts in western Pennsylvania, said: "There is no doubt that the Ohio result will have an inspiring effect upon the democrats of this state, and an op-posite effect upon the republicans, for a brief space, at least. The result in Ohio was the outcome of purely local issues. They have no bosses over there, you know, and so it wasn't an uprising of the people against that element, though I think it would have been a good deal better if they had had some

a good dear better it they had had some bosses over there to teach them sense." Colonel James P. Barr, editor of the Post, was jubilant. "The democracy will sweep Pennsylvania beyond the peradventure of a doubt," said Colonel Barr, "and Mr. Hopkins will go to congress in place of Mr. Errett. You will find that the democrats will gain ongressmen in this state also. It is going to e a fatal year for besses.

Hon. J. Simpson Africa said: "The greatest results of the Ohio victory will be made apparent in the next house." As to Pennsylvania, he thought the anti-Cameron revolt had grown to such an extent that all the machinery of the stalwarts could not restrain it, thus making a rosy outlook for the democracy, who would now, under the inspiration of Ohio, come up shoulder to shoulder for vic-tory in the November fight.

Albany, October 12—From parties arriving on the Brunswick and Albany railroad, last night, news was received of a terrible shooting affray yesterday at Tifton, a small station on said road in Berrien county, about forty miles from Albany. From the somewhat meagre particulars received, it appears that Mr. Green B. Mayo, a former citizen of Lee county, and well known all through this section of country, and a Mr. Mart Howell, both engaged in the turpentine business, had had a dispute about the land or land line between Them, which occasioned a lawsuit, and which was to have been heard and determined before a magistrate's court at Tifton yesterday. Some days ago Howell had written to Mayo what was regarded by the latter as an insulting letter, which Mayo said he intended to make him retract or fight. Both parties, accompanied by their friends, met yesterday at the court ground, and when the demand for retraction was made by Mayo the shooting commenced. The principals were both determined men, as were also their friends. Some forty or fifty shots were fired. Both the principals fell mortally wounded, and when the train passed Tifton yesterday afternoon neither of them was expected to live till this morning. One of Howell's supporters, named Jordan, was shot and instantly killed, and another, named Vickers, his book-keeper, was seriously wounded. Several others were reported to be wounded on both sides, but as yet the particulars are meagre.

Speer's strongholds, Colonel Candler's friends were apprehensive of unpleasant interruptions during his speech. The result was quite a surprise. Despite the fact that a large majority of the dense crowd which gathered to hear him were warm adherents of Speer, the speech was received with marked respect and favor. It was strong, contvincing, and at times eloquent, delivered in clear, ringing tones and enlivened by happy anec dotes, which put the audience in the best of humor. The general comment of those who heard it was that Colonel Candler was 'a mighty fair minded man.' He denounced as false the charge that he had either directly or indirectly influenced Duggar to run as a candidate against Speer. Duggar himself in his speech on the following day denounced the charge in unmeasured—terms. He had avowed himself as the popular candidate months before the nomination of Candler. As Speer had insulted him early in the campign, he proposed to months before the nomination of Candler, As Speer had insulted him early in the campign, he proposed to make things hot for that gentleman. Duggar's popularity in Fannin, Gilmer and Pickens, which he represented in the state senate, and in other of the mountain counties where he has for many years piled his vection as a horse doctor, will it is thought result greatly to the detriment of Speer. His speech was un'que, but abounded in strong "horse sense" and humor. His personnel was striking, and bore a close likeness to the "lone fisherman" in Evangeline. He has always been a staunch republican, and for about ten years past has steadily represented his people in the legislature, never once suffering a defeat.

Candler's friends are quite sanguine. Those who are best informed predict a majority in his favor of about 2,000 votes.

A SUICIDAL JUMP.

A Former Ringgold Physician Jumps from a Train

JASPER, October 12.—There are few more picturesque spots in Georgia than the little village of Jasper, hid between the tall peaks of the Blue Ridge. In scenery and climate it is scarcely to be excelled in this region. The Marieta and North Georgia railroad, which has just reached here, is a great noverly to the people, many of whom have never seen a locomotive. Its advent here, as elsewhere along the route, is working marked revolution and glowing hopes are indulged of the rapid growth and development of this section. The superior-court is in session, Judge James R. Brown presiding. Judge Brown is a rigid and impartial judge, remarkably prompt in despatching business and held in high esteem for his integrity and ability by the people of the circuit.

Considerable interest is now manifested in the congressional race. Speer spoke here several days ago, and was followed by Candler on Monday last in a forcible and effective argument. As this has always been regarded one of Speer's strongholds, Colonel Candler's friends were apprehensive of unpleasant interruptions during his speech. The result was quite a discovered to Ringgold Physician Jumps from a Train and is Killed.

From the Dalton, Ga., Citizen.

About four years ago and acquainted with. About four years ago and acquainted with. About four years ago in marked revolution and glowing acquainted with. About four years ago in maylum, where he recovered in a few months, and moved to Texas. About ten days since he and his wife decided to return to Ringgold, and took a train at Galveston. While on the train he became very nervous and acted strangely, and it was feared his old trouble had returned. His wife watched him carefully, but felf as a forcible and effective argument. As this has always been regarded one of Speer's strongholds, Colonel Candler's friends were apprehensive of juries and several bones were fractured. He was removed to Ringgold, where he died soor after from his injuries.

THE story of the death in Pensacola of young Italian bride is another instance of th depth of woman's love, and contains more of romance than is often found in the books.

In the killing of the Chattanooga desperado by a Missouri sheriff, justice has followed close upon the heels of the fugitive. The other brothers, it is believed, will be under control in a day or two, when the Taylor family may come to the conclusion that they do not rule the country, unless Governo Hawkins, of Tennessee, should be as anxious to extend grace and pardon as was Governor Crittenden in the matter of Frank James

AN INTERESTING QUESTION.

The Macon Graphic is not; at all pleased ith the action of the railroad commi epealing circular No. 10. Its objections ar arly and pungently stated, so that there is difficulty in getting at the gist of them avs (1) that Macon is located in the center he cotton belt, and this advantage has en led her to become a great cotton market ugh it is admitted that her receipts have ased from 200,000 bales to about 70,000 that the city has paid something for the ad advantages which she enjoys, having more money in railroads than the property of all the towns Valley to Americus, inclusive, amounts to:

city strenuously opposed the amalon of the Central railroad with the on and Western, and if that amalgamawas considered a calamity, "how much e formidable will the action of the com on prove which practically amaigamates the roads running into Macon, and makes only a way station on the route to mar-" (4) that the discrimination of the stanrd tariff amounts to a complete embargo s, for instance:

n in Montezuma: the price he can pay for y, for instance, the Savaanah price less th ht to that point. He buys cotton to ship m, of course: it must stop here if he buys fo revised, the Montezuma merchant can ship direct to Savannah for 45 cents, while the Macon merchants, combining the two locals, must pay 61 cents, and of course will be driven from the market. The only person on an equality with the local merchant will be the Savannah merchant, and the poor planter must either sell to his home merchants or ship to the seacoast himself. As he does not wish to send his cotton so far from home, his only resource will be the former, and the local merchant can fix his own prices without fear of competition. The effect of the revocation, therefore, will be to destroy the interior cotton markets, both at Macon and elsewhere, and to t.ansfer them, so far as shipping by rall is concerned, to the cities on the border or at the seashore. Beautiful spectacle! That the raliroad commission of Georgia, whose fundamental duty is to establish "just and reason" That the railroad commission of Georgia, whose undamental duty is to establish "just and reasonable rates," should force upon the roads a tariff hat in its practical operation puts the hard earnings of the planter into the pockets of the middleman, and at the same time, by driving the trade of he state from its natural and legitimate channels, reaks down the commerce and ruins the prospects of the state's great inland cities.

The reasoning of our esteemed contempora ry is specious and not sound. The simple wruth is that circular No. 10, which has been rescinded, established a toll-gate at Macon and worked injustice to a very large section of country. The order was wrong in princiole, and should never have been issued. It s the duty and the policy of the commission to place the humblest citizen-the poorest planter and the smallest shipper-upon terms of relative equality with the richest and most powerful. It is not a question of benefits to lasses, in or out of cities, but of justice to each individual-to all the people.

Suppose that Macon, or Atlanta, have made larger investments in railroads than ten, or a dozen, or a thousand smaller towns, does it follow that these smaller towns, as well as the people all around them, are to be unjustly taxed in their behalf? Has Macon realized nothing from her railroad investments in div dends? Do not these dividends represent the taxes levied by the railroads upon the people of the state-excessive and unjust in a great majority of instances? There is no justice in the position of our contemporary. The courts have exploded the idea that, because a railroad has invested money in its equipment, it has the right to levy excessive taxes upon the people. Why should a city, which has invested money in railroads, be allowed to levy tolls upon freights passing through its gates? Is the commission, or are railroads, to blame for the decrease in Macon's cotton receipts? Certainly no ruling of the commission has had, or will have, such a disastrous effect.

We have reproduced verbatim the main aruments and the figures employed by our contemporary in regard to the operation of the epeal of circular No. 10. But is it not true that the railroads have a working margin of ifteen cents which they can use to the direct dvantage of Macon? Let the Graphic in estigate this matter, and it will quickly disover that whatever real discrimination is made under the repeal can be traced to the ailroads themselves.

The real effect of the repeal will be to give he cotton planters of southwest Georgia a hoice of markets. They can either ship their cotton themselves, and realize the in creased profits due to the repeal of an unjust liscrimination, or they can sell to home buyers. The idea of our contemporary that the ome buyers in the smaller markets will fix" their prices so as to deprive the "poor lanter" of the benefits of the repeal has the favor of the warehouse about it. The clear nference is that the "poor planwould be benefitted by the new rule of the commission if only the "local merchant" or the home buyer were honest enough to deal fairly by him. point of our contemporary is not well taken t seems to us that if the local buyer, say at Montezuma, can get a reduction of thirteen cents a hundred on cotton, he can amply af ford to pay the planter the difference in order o retain his custom. This is the natural and ommon sense view. It is the intention of the commission, and it will be to the interest of the local buyer, to put this reduction o fifty-five cents a bale in the pockets of the

There are other interesting suggestions in he Graphic's article, but we have not the ace to enlarge upon the subject now Meanwhile, we hope to see the whole matter thoroughly discussed. It is of great importance to the people.

FROST INDICATIONS. General Hazen is the chief officer of the sig nal service, and the signal service is one o the most useful branches of the government This service partakes of the paternal nature and if we are doomed to have a strong centra power outside of the constitution, the more paternal it is the better. If we are to have the dangers of such a system, we at least should enjoy all possible benefits. The signal service is one of the benefits. It has long foretold the coming of storms, and especially of the treacherous storms that are bred in the varm waters of the Gulf of Mexico or th Caribbean sea; and in a recent paper it at tempts to tell the farmers how to detect the approach of frosts. The paper in question was prepared by Lieutenant James Allan and it goes forth bearing the indorsement of the signal service. The writer irst explains the presence and prevalency of oisture in the air, and the necessity of asceraining the "dew point" or the time when the moisture in the air begins to be condens ed by low temperature. The ascertainment of the dew point is of great practical importince, particularly to horticulturists, since i hows the point near which the descent of the emperature of the air during the night will be arrested. For when the air has been cool ed down by radiation to this point dew is de posited and latent heat is given out. The amount of heat thus set free being great the emperature of the surrounding air is imme diately raised. The same process continues to be repeated, and thus the temperature of the air in contact with plants or other radiating surfaces may be considered as gently scillating about the dew point. For if it raises higher the loss of heat by radiation speedily lowers it. Thus the dew point deterines the minimum temperature of the surace of leaves on the ground during the night. The hygrometer-an instrument supplied by the chief officer of the signal service at cost price, $7-is relied on to indicate the dew-point, and this in turn shows whether there is to be frost or not. Lieutenant Allan proceeds to explain the use of the instrument. Suppose, he says, on a fine, clear day, toward evening, that the dry bulb is 50 degrees and the wet bulb 40 degrees, the dew point at the time is, therefore, 20 degrees Fahrenheit.

Frost on the ground may then be predicted with certainty, and no time ought to be lost in protecting uch tender plant exposed in the pen air. If, q

evived, the Montezuma merchant can ship direct hand, with a sky quite as clear, the dry bulb o Savannah for 45 cents, while the Macon meris 50 degrees and the wet bulb 47 degrees, the dew point being thus 43 degrees, no frost need be feared. Assuming the sky to remain perfectly clear of haze or clouds, the raising masses of the or depressing of the dew point during the night

ht (usually with a change wind) are the only circum stances that can happen to interfere with the predictions founded on the hygrometer. Frequently the presence of haze at high altitudes during the night prevents the radiation of heat from the earth and thereby the fros which otherwise would have occurred. Hoar frost is formed under the same circumstances as dew, with the exception of a lower temperature. When the temperature of the surface of plants falls below 32 degrees the mois ture of the air is condensed upon them in the solid state and forms a layer of snow crystals like spongy ice. Hoar frost, therefore, is not frozen dew but the moisture of the air is deposited in the solid form, without having passed through the liquid condition. Hoan frost, like dew, is deposited chiefly upon those bodies which radiate best, such as plants and the leaves of vegetables, and the deposit is made principally on those parts which are turned toward the sky.

The signal service will not only supply the hygrometer at cost, but it will also furnish full instructions as to the manner of reading them, free of charge.

lature will probably "prescribe some way for an election contest in a gubernatorial matter." what gubernatorial matter? And what likelihood s there of a contest? THERE never has been a greater curse than cotton The people of the south have impoverished them-

It is related by the Boston Transcript that James Russell Lowell once wrote a careful article on American humor and sent it anonymously to on American humor and sent it anonymously to the Atlantic. A few weeks afterwards he adroitly led Editor James T fields to the subject. Mr Fields said: "We get a great deal of manuscript on humor, but it is so poor that we cannot use it. I threw into the waste basket the other day a long screed christened the 'Essence of American Humor,' which should have been styled the 'Essence of Nonsense,' for a more absurd farrago of stuff. I have never seen." Lowell burst into laughter and informed fields of the authorship of the article. The editor turned all colors and swore it was one of Lowell's jokes. "Indeed it is," responded Lowell, "and the best joke I ever played. I never thought highly of my scribbling, but I didn't believe it was the mo t ridiculous farrago of stuff you had ever seen."

Poor Pinned

"Poor Pinneo!" This will be the exclamation o ot a few readers of the Times before this item is half perused. Visitors to the exposition grounds last year will remember the Miss Pinneo, of Colora-do, who rode a race with Miss Williams, of Kansas, do, who rode a race with Miss Williams, of Kansas, and was defeated. The young woman, sho left her home at Greeley, Colorado, to go out irto the world and ridd to fame on horseback, went so the dogs a great deal quicker than many believed she would, but it was only a question of time, others said. A Lawrence, Kansas, paper is responsible for the statement. It says Miss Pinneo arrived in that city in company with one P. A. Baxter, a alloon man from Topeka. They took rooms at the rotei as man and wife, and on the following day the man had disappeared. The woman purchased strychnine at Lindley's drug store in North Lawrence, had her photograph taken, wrote a number of letters, and boarded the train for Topeka. At the depot, just before entering the car, she swallowed the poison and died en route to Topeka. The particulars are meager, but the paper states that the victim was Pinneo, the woman who rode the race with Miss Williams.

There is evidently some disturbance going on in the nucleus, as it has several times been seen separated into two or three parts, which afterward closed up again. It is not a new idea to astronomers that the nucleus of a comet may consist of many fragments held together by mutual attraction. The thought becomes almost startling, however, in view of the phenomena presented by the present comet. Think of these huge cometic masses rushing madily forward, whirling round and round, yet held together in the leash of gravitation, plunging through the fiery outer atmosphere of the suo, and then hurled forth again, clashing and crashing, with tremendous smoke and flame and fury, yet unable to burst the bonds that hold them! It is no wonder that the inhabitants of the sun's family of pea eful and steadygoing worlds are amazed and terrified by the furious appearance of his queer visitors from the depths of space.

It is possible that two or three old people who were inmates of the poor house voted for me, but of that I say now, as I did then, that I have yet to learn that the state of Georgia prohibits a man from voting on account of his poverty."

PILES INCER PILE REMEDY. SWIFT'S SPECIFIC.

TESTIMONY

R. S. s. is made from roots gathered from the forests, and is not offered as a triumph of Science. It has been used in Georgia ever since the retirement of the Creek Indians. It was communicated by them to the white settlers, and has cured thousands of the wor steases of Blood and Skin Diseases, in primary, secondary or tertiary stage. It thoroughly removes ALL TAINT FROM THE BLOOD and brings back health and happines. Take it strictly according to directions, and it will cure you sound and well.

SCROFULA.

EURKA SPRINGS, ARK., Sept. 25, 1882.

Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.:

When Mr. Walker began taking S. S. S. he was in a most wretched condition—the worst case of Scrofula that had ever visited this place. The entire back part of his head was one solid sore, right ear partly eaten off and grown to the bone, left eye badly eaten and right nearly gone; on his right shoulder was asore broader than your hand, extending down the back, and in places holes you could place you thumb in; his left elbow was one entire sore, running completely around the arm. The above was Mr Walker's condition before beginning to take Swift's Specific. He has been taking S. S. now about eight weeks, and the present condition of his case is as follows: The back of his head has healed with the exception of three or four places the size of your thumb nail, which still discharges; ear has healed, eye much improved and sight nearly restored; about two thirds of his should er has healed, at which a discharge continues, and elbow is nearly well. All who have seen him were amazed at his improved condition. He will be entirely well in a few weeks.

ECZEMA.

Hot Springs, Ark, July 17, 1882.

About eight years ago an eruption appeared on my face and rapidity pead until it covered nearly my whole body. My a tending physician pronounced the disease eczema, and after unsuccessful treatment advised me to come here. I did so and remained several months, and wos somewhat benefited. Very soon, however, after returning home the disease grew alarmingly worse, when I agoin determined to visit the Hot Springs. It is now nearly five years since my return here, during which time I have energetically applied all the physicians' art (both internal and external) in connection with the celebrated inernal hot baths and in addition to all this have taken mere than a hundred bottles of various medicines, without the desired result. Up to three most the ago I had about concluded my case was incurable, and with all scenticism possible began the use of Swift's Specific. Now, after three months' use of it, there is not a single appearance of eruption on my ody—my skin is clear and smooth, and my general health is as good as it ever was, I am a well man, ard S. S. Setured me. If you have any cubiling ones then addies mehere.

After an experience of twenty-five years in selling this ointment, and during that time having closely watched its effects, and having the testimony of my friends and neighbors to confirm my confidence in its merits, I became fully satisfied of its value, and I have bought the exclusive right to make and sellit, and offer it to you as the best remedy in the world, especially for all forms of Pies.

This is to certify that I have tried Pryor's Pile Ointment in a case of piles, and state that it gave more relief than anything I have ever tried. I further state that as a remedy for burns it is unparalleled. I also used it for a case of tetter in my feet, of twenty years' standing, and say that it is the first thing that I have ever tried that gave me more than more larry relief. I consider now that more than more larry relief. I consider now that am entirely relief. I was distressing disease.

JOHN D. NEWSOM.

Having been afflicted for ten years, at intervals, with that distressing malady, the piles, and after many ineflectual trials of the remedies in common use, I commenced a short time ago to use your Pile Ointment. I experienced immediate relief. From the relief experienced in my case, as well as from the reputation so rapidly acquired by your Ointment in this vicinity, I have no hesitation in expressing the coinion that it is the most efficient remedy for piles ever invented.

O. A. BULL,
LaGrange, Ga. This is to certify that I used Pryor's Ointment in a case of severe burn, and that in a very few days it was entirely relieved of all inflammation and healed rapidly. After the first application of the Olutment, the patient suffered no pain what yever.

E. J. MORGAN, LaGrange, Ga.

By the advice of Mr. Wynn, I used your Pile Ointment on a servant girl who had been suffering for eight years with a most aggravated case of piles. She improved from the very first day's use of your Ointment, and before using the box she was entirely recovered.

THE COTTON MARKET

CONSTITUTION OFFICE, Atlanta, October 13, 1882

New York-as far as results are concerned the past week has been an unsatisfactory one in the general cotton market, and a tone of complaint rol's up from every quarter. Spots and futures were alike affected, and buyers and sellers express thus far assumed. Many are the causes ascribed of the money market, together with the lateness o the crop and the slow and inactive feeling on the part of operators, have cast a gloom over the market id the outlook from this standpoint shows little foundation for encouragement. While net receipt at the ports show a liberal increase over last year, th of disappointment appeas on every side. The falling to the declining tendency of the market and the desire on the part of the planter to hold off for better prices, but the near approach of November w l compel at least the majority of them to market a a large share of what has thus far been gathered. Money, too, is easier now than a week ago, but not-withstanding this, cotton moves slowly, and buyers manifest an unwillingness to take hold at ruling prices. Futures throughout the week have been remarkably quiet and dull, and there has been a great lack of animation and spirit in this depart ment of trade. For several days past dullness pre vailed, but at the close to-day the market showed a steady feeling with quotations only a few point under the figures of a week ago. The spot market for the past day or two has shown some improve ent, and prices have been gradually approaching a higher range. At the close to day middling was 1136c, against 113 c a week ago.

Net receipts for the week ending te-day 204,801 bales, against 177,932 bales last week and against exports for the week 94,200 bales; same time last yea year 503,021 bales.

The local cotton market during the past week was quiet and dull, and no new features of interest ere presented. Buyers and sellers have generally been apart and sales in the aggregate have been comparatively light. Receipts have fallen behind expectations, but to-day increased sufficiently to instill a new hope for encouragement for the com ing week: During the greater pertion of the tim the marget has shown a firm attitude, and holders have been obstinate and manifested no desire to press sales. The protracted dry spell has caused cotton to open slowly, but to-day's showers will hasten its opening, and a week hence will probably nake a m-terial difference in our receipts. At the lose to day spots ruled firm at the following prices: and middling 10%c; middling 10%c; strict low idling 10%c; middling 10; strict good ordinary size; good sod; to go

In the face of a Liverpool decline, the increase in the quantity of American cotton afloat for Liverpool—namely, 11-000 bales against 76-000 bales laweek, and an undoubted favorable report from the agricultural department to-morrow, the reaction from this morning's decline can hardly be reasonably accounted for. THE STEWART CASE.

THE CASE RESUMED IN THE UNITED

The Second Day's Proceedings of the Trial of Walter W. Finier, James Finier, Jackson Bearden, and Charles Sparks—The Examination of Winnesses—What They Say, Etc.

The trial of Walter W Findley, James Findley, Jackson Bearden and Charles Sparks, charged with conspiracy, was continued in the United States dis-trict court yesterday before Judge McCay. The prosecution had not quite completed its evidence and it examined two more witnesses, Newberry and Hughes. The former testified that he had heard some of the parties accused talk as if they meant ill to Stewart, but he could not say positively whether it was before or after the night Stewart was fired at and his store burned. Hughes was one of the accused and defendant's counsel objected to any statement of his being used against any one but himself. The objection was sustained. Hughes said he saw John Fricks, one of the accused not then on trial, the day before the burning of Stewart's barn and store. At that time Fricks said something about the oxen which Stewart had seized and intimated that he had better not keep them. At three different times Walter Findley approached him and asked if he would not testify that Stewart tried to hire him to swear against the accused in this case. This he refused to do. Findley said he mean to sue Stewart for $2.500 damages on account of this prosecution, and asked Hughes if he would not be one of his witnesses. On cross examination Hughes admitted that his conversations with Findley had all referred to their plans for a boint defense against the charge of conspiracy. He said one Joe Rogers had approached him at this court and told him that the case against him would be not pressed if he would give evidence enough to convict the other accused parties. The prosecution rested its case here and announced that the case against sparks was dismissed. The defense opened. William Findley, of counsel, announced to the jury that they expected to prove that the accused were entirely innocent of the charge, and that on the night the murderous attack was made on Stewart they were many miles away. The first witness offered was Wal er W. Findley, one of the accused. He said he had never had any cause to cherish malice against Stewart. He had been in no way interested in any of the distilleries destroyed by him in his raids. He went to stewart's the Sandany before the attack at the request of some of his neighbors to see if Stewart would not release s me oxen he had selzed. Stewart selved to do so, and they parted in a very friendly manner. On the night of the attack he was at meant ill to Stewart, but he could not say positively whether it was before or after the night Stewart was fired at and his store burned. Hughes was one of the river when she approached. There were tracks all around, and they led toward the river. He went to Morganton next day, and the sheriff arrested him, stewart came up to me with a drawn pistol and rared around me as if he meant to shoot.

District Attorney Bigby subjected the witness to a searching cross-examination as to whereabouts on the night of the attack.

At the conclusion of Tilley's testimony Judge McCay announced that the case would not proceed further as til 90 clock this morning. Quite a number of witnesses are to be examined yet, and they, with the argument of counsel will probably consume the entire day. A large number of the centre day. A large number of the friends of the accused and the prosecutor are in the city, and the verdict is awaited with intense interest.

Good Pletures. Atlanta has progressed in art during the past few years as well as in meny other things. Good pictures are more in demand, and the services of first-class artists have been and are generally called for. Among others in their specialities Mr.lvie, of White-hall street, ranks deservedly high, and as an evidence of the correctness of the likeness in his pictures and the excellence of his work, the public is awarding him a liberal patronage.

"What of your Art Loan exhibition?" asked a Constitution reporter of Mr. P. H. Shook yesterday.

"Oh, it is fairly booming," he replied. "Our agent is now in the northern cities making his selections and we are going to have a first-class art display, and will attract visitors all over the state. Father Ryan lectures on the 7th of next month on "The Beatiful in Art," at which time the cit; will be filled with Georgia's most cultivated citizens, as the legislature will then be in session. Father Ryan has chosen this subject with a special view to our exhibition, which opens within one week after his lecture. His fealty to the lost cause has made him dear to every southern man, woman and child, and the pious life and noble purposes has made him a welcome visitor to every household. We expect to fill DeGlve's opera house on that night other lectures will follow, notably, by Judge Bleckely and one by H. W. Grady, besides later in the season prominent lecturers from the different bureau's throughout the land."

EDITORS CONSTITUTION: Your reporter must have been badly mixed when he wrote that piece in your paper yesterday in regard to the Peachtree street pavement. He said "the dity marshal sent bills for the pavement," etc., and "served notices giving ten days to pay the same or cost to the amount of almost ten dollars would accrue and be added to the original bill."

I have sent no such bills, have not served notices of any kind on Peachtree street, and don't-know anything about the Peachtree street pavement, Yours truly, W. R. JOYNER, City Marshal.

Mr. Jeyner is correct. The notices were sent out by the city engineer, and the error attaching them o him was unintentional.

Can't Cook as Mother Did.

How many a young wife's heart is saddened and happiness scattered because she cannot "cook as mother did." It is strange, sadly strange, and yet we all know it is true. How many a time has the tender-hearted reporter felt his soul bursting with grief as he told the harrowing story of some poor suffering woman, whose cheerful sunshine had turned to dismal darkness just because she could not "cook as mother did." And how it delights the heart of the reporter when he chances to hear of one devoted young wife who is rescued from the gloomy fate of so many, in a manner so simple and easy that the only wonder is that all are not saved. This one to whom he now refers was led a blushing and thooming bride, but a few short weeks ago, to the altar by one of our most promising and prominet young men. Journal, May 17, 1881.

For many excellent reasons, conspicuously furnished by itself, we are pleased to announce the speedy coming of Sells Brothers' Six Enormous Railroad Shows, now united Every possible assurance is given that it is, what its title suggests, the grandest and wealthest amusement organization on earth, canopying all wonderland with its half million yards of electric-lighted canvas. But even more conclusive evidence than the weighty indorseusive evidence than the weighty indorse enusive evidence than the weighty indorsement of the press and the potent voice of public approval is the straightforward and unprecedented action of the Messrs. Sells themselves in vigorously demanding the strict enforcement of the law against all exhibitions guilty of obtaining money under false pretenses, and of grossly swindling their patrons by loudly advertising attractions they do not by loudly advertising attractions they do not by loady autertising attractions they do not possess; in strenuously insisting that a passable performance in some respects does not excuse wholesale misrepresentation in other things; and, finally, in frankly and boldly urging the press to speak of their show just as it is it is.

Clearly, no impostor, no fraudulent advertiser, no ordinary exhibition would dare to thus plainly and publicly arouse such powerful agencies to crush it. Genuine superiority, true greatness and invincible integrity can alone court such an ordeal, and as the Messrs. Sells are the only ones to do it, the conclusion is irresistible that theirs is indeed the very First and Finest of Shows, and that, in the words of the Binghamton (N. Y.) Daily Republican, "their names will be as good on a show bill as Vanderbilt's is on a bank check."

Eastern and Western Proverbs.

There is an eastern proverb which says: "Only two creatures can surmount the pyramids: The eagle and the snail." There is a western proverb that says: "Hunt's Remedy partakes of the nature of both eagle and snail. It is bold in its flight like the eagle; it is peatsern in its purpose, like the snail." And thus Hunt's Remedy easily surmounts the pyrapaid of kidney and liver disease. It even attacks Bright's disease, and hesitates at no form of kidney disease however aggravated. The story of the cures which it has effected would make a large volume. Remember it is the one great liver and kidney medicine of the age.

A WORD TO OUR READERS

When you read of a medicine that will cure all diseases, beware of it, for every scientific physician on earth knows how fallacious such statements are. But when you read of a medicine compounded by a regular physician and surgeon of high standing that claims to cure only a certain disease, and furnishes high proof that it does this, you can safely try it, and with the assurance that it will cure you. DR. V. R. STONE, late physician and surgeon of the U. S. A., has placed before the public a preparation called of Georgia in the Asheville and Spartanburg Railroad. This interest is about one tenth, and is measured by to ratio that fifty-three one thousand dollar Bonds of the Spartanburg and Asheville Railroad Company bears to the whole number that united in the purchase of said 8 & A R R and the formation of the Asheville and Spartanburg Railroad Co. The number that united in the purchase is known not to exceed 570, and probably does not exceed 550. All the purchase money has been paid, the new company has no debt whatever, is making money, and has money in the treasury. No stock has yet been issued, but the capital stock is $1,050.000, and the company is the owner of a property which has cost over $800,000, and which, when a link of about twenty miles between Hendersouville and Asheville is completed will be immensely valuable. An examination of the map will convince any thoughtful person that the interest we offer for sale is now worth at least $53,000, and will be worth double that within the next five years, but it must be sold for what it will bring. Major James Ander, son, of Spartanburg, the superintendent of the railroad, will give any information desired. This Oct 3, 1882. L. J. HILL.
